lifestyle and leisure/game	SubjectDetail	10001001	en-GB	Go	A strategic, deterministic Chinese board game played by alternately placing stones on a grid	We would like to amend the Explanation of Go, which NSK proposed to include as SubjectDetail for the IPTC AGM 2001. Because we hope to newly include Shogi, it is necessary to change Go's Explanation to distinguish these two games clearly. Go and Shogi are strategic board games which are very popular in Japan; the title matches are news of great public attention. Both games are played in many countries.
